

100 Year Old Barn Project

Started in 2004, this is an on-going project to catalog as many of the 100+ year old barns still remaining in Ontario County as possible. The aim is to identify their history, architecture and condition and to create a permanent set of records for the Ontario County Historical Society and for the Town/Village Historian and/or Historical Society. The records at OCHS will be totally digitized in a database for research purposes, and can be maintained at the Municipality in hard copy as well as digitized format.

More information about the survey in on the Ontario County Historical Society's web site:
